There are quite a number of our people returning home from their vacations spent in California, and they are nearly all in pronouncedly better weather and more agreeable than in Arizona.

C. M. Calhoun left this morning for an extended trip through the east. He will go directly to Baltimore, but expects to visit several other large cities in the east before returning to Arizona. He will always have a good word to say for the famous Castle Creek hot springs of this county, which are becoming a very popular winter resort.

Dr. Thomas J. Turner, Pacific Coast agent for Foley & Co., of Chicago, one of the largest drug manufacturing concerns in the United States, is in Prescott today making arrangements with our local merchants for handling their goods. They have selected the Journal-Miner as the medium through which they will place their goods before the people of this section, and in this selection they have made no mistake, for the Journal-Miner leads all other mediums, hot air claims to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Journal-Miner was in error last night in speaking of the dismissal of the injunction case against the Groom Creek miners' union and James O'Connell, the president of that union. The item made the paper say "James O'Connell" instead of James O'Connell as it should have been. There has never been any trouble with this union nor with Mr. O'Connell, and it was by mistake that they were included in the temporary injunction, and as soon as the Mine Operators found out the real condition of things they offered the motion to dismiss the case against them, which was done.

In the series of tennis games recently played in Prescott between the Prescott and Iron Springs teams, the Prescott players won everything played but one single which was won by Hall. In the doubles the Prescott team won three straight sets, as follows: First set, Prescott 7, Iron Springs 3; second set, Prescott 9, Iron Springs 2; third set, Prescott 6, Iron Springs 2. In the singles the results were as follows: First set, Bailey, Prescott, 6; Hall, Iron Springs, 1; second set, Bailey 4, Hall 6; third set, Bailey 6, Hall 1. It is likely a return game may be played some time in the near future.

Notwithstanding the cry of business being bad in this city at the present time, there were ten cars of local freight received by Prescott merchants yesterday and today. The merchants are now receiving their fall and winter goods, and are buying fine large stocks. The Journal-Miner ventures the assertion that business will soon resume its normal condition and our merchants and people will continue to be prosperous. The trouble in the mining camps has practically all been settled, and the few striking miners that are left are going to work one at a time and a number of others from the outside are arriving and going to work, so from all appearances the mines will soon all be running along just as usual and the temporary lull in business be forgotten. So note it.

According to the Tombstone Epitaph, the people of that section meet death with a glad hand. A Mexican, who had been in Agua Prieta on a protracted spree, biting up on needed had his final "cash in." Knowing that he had not long to live, he expressed a desire to die while listening to music. In accordance with his desire a man who could play the guitar was found and he played for half an hour. The Mexican then stepped into the other world.

O. A. Hesla, who recently returned to Prescott after a visit of several weeks in Iowa, Illinois and Michigan, states that the people in those states seem to be very prosperous and contented and the country looks splendid, but he was glad to get back to old Yavapai county and see her pine trees and mountains and breathe the cool, fresh, bracing air, and even the big granite boulders looked good to him. When a fellow comes to be a Hassayamper, his mighty hand to mean him of it.

About fifty pages will be devoted to the interests of irrigation and as much to mining. The books will be ready for circulation in two months.

There was a free for all fight at Jerome Junction last night between a lot of boiler makers who had come over from Jerome, and a bunch of hobos. The fight started over some argument and one of the hobos proceeded to stab one of the boiler makers six times in the side with a small pocket knife. Another boiler maker attempted to take the knife away from the hobo when he got pretty badly cut on the arm. The hobos got away and started for Ash Fork and the injured men were brought to Prescott and their wounds were dressed by a physician.

The sale of the Arizona Democrat, which has been pending for some time, has been effected, the purchaser being the Phoenix Enterprise. The price has not yet been given out, nor do the new owners say just what the future of the paper will be. The only part of the affairs of the paper which has not been adjusted is the claim of Sam F. Webb for about $4500. That, however, has been secured by a bond—Republican.

MINE OPERATORS' OPEN LETTER

To the Many Inquiries From Miners.

The Situation Is Described—An Abundance of Help Will Be Available.

The Mine Operators' Association held an important meeting at their rooms in the Prescott National Bank building last evening, at which time an explanation in this county has gone over pretty carefully and the hundreds of letters that have been received the past few days from miners from all over the west, were discussed. From the tone of the letters that have been received it is only a matter of a very few minutes that there will be a great many more letters coming in, and the work of answering all these questions for each man would require an army of clerks, so the association decided to prepare a letter that would cover the important questions asked in these letters, and the following is a copy of the letter so prepared and sent out:

"Dear Sir:

"In reply to your letter permit me to say that the Mine Operators' Association of Yavapai county, Arizona, is comprised of representative men owning and operating mines; that there are not sufficient men in the county at this time to meet requirements—not that there is a strike on, though slight trouble is being experienced in some localities through the efforts of 'walking delegates.' It is a fact, however, that seventy five per cent of the members of the different unions are employed (and in many cases working harmoniously with non-union men), the other twenty five per cent might be considered as 'walking delegates' and the latter class claim the right to manage the companies properties, and are disposed to create what little disturbance they can,—thus far they have made but little headway.

"The mine owners and operators are determined that under no circumstances will they permit a condition of things to exist in this territory if it is possible for them to prevent it, whereby a member of a union shall enjoy any privilege over a non-union American citizen of equal merit.

"As matters stand today, a large percentage of the men working in the mines are non-union men and men who have absolutely refused to surrender their independence at the dictation of any organization, and the union men that are working are not, as a rule, influenced by the 'walking delegates.' Miners in Arizona at least, are getting tired of losing from a quarter to two thirds of their time, when good wages are to be had, just to keep the agitator and walking delegate employed. The effects of these mischief makers are two fold: not only do they deprive the individual miner of the opportunity of the opportunity to procure remunerative employment for the time being, but they retard development and in many cases ruin enterprises entirely, putting a blight on the immediate section in which such enterprises are located, and removing forever from the reach of the employees opportunities that otherwise would be theirs.

"The mine operators and mine owners, as such, are not interested in railroad rates and consequently are not in a position to offer inducements in the shape of reduced rates for men to come to the territory for the purpose of taking advantage of the exceptional high wages and desirable opportunities to be found here for satisfactory employment. Besides, they have felt that any device, man, desirous of coming to the territory for employment should either be willing and able to pay for getting here, or if not in possession of ready funds, his standing should be such as to permit of his securing the same from friends or acquaintances—formed—provided he proved himself a worthy and competent employee and good citizen in the community in which he lives. The requirements are not such as to make it at all necessary for the operators to incur any expense inducing men to come to the territory, beyond making them acquainted with the fact that favorable opportunities exist here.

"The mines in Yavapai county, as previously stated, are being operated, though not as extensively as they would be if more good miners were available. Good miners are what are needed. A certain number of machine men, engineers, pumpmen, muckers, etc., could undoubtedly find employment, but it would probably be well for other than miners to make definite arrangements for their employment, although unquestionably many men aside from miners could find satisfactory employment once their reputation is established. It is true, of course, that if the mines were being operated more extensively (as they would be if more good miners were available), there would naturally be greater opportunities offered for general employment. 'Very respectfully,

"Yavapai County Mine Operators Association."

A Journal-Miner reporter called on Mr. Murphy, president of the association, and asked him what the conditions really were at this time, and if he thought there was a likelihood of the troubles being adjusted in the near future.

"You may say," he replied, "that the trouble is practically over now, and it is only a matter of a few days until there will be an abundance of miners, as the association has already received hundreds of letters from good men from all over the west offering to come here. Quite a number of men have gone to work and more are being added to the rolls of the county every day. With the addition of these men to the working forces of the county it is not hard to see what the results will be to the entire section and to Prescott in particular. The merchants of this city are beginning to realize that the trouble is practically over, and are ordering large stocks of goods for the fall and winter trade and Prescott will soon resume her normal business activity."

"You might also say," he continued, "that there seems to be a

CHRONIC SORES

Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the mere scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.
